①For the fifth year in a row, Finland came in first in the World Happiness Report. This may be surprising to you as Finland is famous for its cold winters and short daylight. Then learn about the people's life there and you may find the answer.

②In Finland, many people grow up going to the library. "The library is a main part of life for the people here." Halsas, a tour guide in Finland, said, "They might do schoolwork there or just read. It's a safe environment." Perhaps the best example of this in practice is the Oodi Helsinki Central Library, which opened in 2018. The bright, open space has different areas (区域). It was built to be a workspace, but also a living room for people.

③Finns love their saunas (桑拿浴室), and almost every home or apartment has one. Finland has a population of about 5.5 million, and there are over 2 million saunas in the country. "There are more saunas than cars here. In the summertime, I go every day." Halsas said. Taking saunas is quite good for physical health, such as improving heart health and more. But the best reason to go? It just feels good.

④The people of Finland also love exploring (探索) the outdoors, from their 40 national parks to different islands. It's no wonder the population loves to go hiking or biking—the landscape (风景) is fantastic. "There is a lot of nature to enjoy." Halsas said. In winter, life doesn't change too much from summertime because Finns get used to the cold and still get around on bicycles. To them, winter just means added activities, such as ice skating, cross-country skiing, and dog sledding (乘坐雪橇).

4. When did the Oodi Helsinki Central Library open?

A. In 2015.

B. In 2018.

C

Mary was full of energy (精力)! Once the class ended, she would rush outside and join any game. One teacher said she should be more “ladylike” and try not to win all the time, but her parents didn’t agree.

“Play as well as you can and be the best you can be!” They told her.

One Saturday afternoon, Mary’s friend Susan asked her to play tennis. Mary didn’t know what “tennis” was, but it sounded exciting! When they arrived at the Virginia Club, there were ladies wearing expensive tennis dresses. Mary felt quite out of place in her T-shirt and shorts! But she felt much better when she got out onto the tennis court. Mary spent more time hitting the air than she did hitting the ball. The ladies around tutted (发出啧啧声), but she didn’t care.

The next morning, her mom took her to meet Clyde.

“I’m Clyde, your coach (教练)!” he said, “Come on in!”

Clyde taught her patiently. The more Mary learned, the more fun she had.

“I want to be the best tennis player in the world!” She asked her coach, “Clyde, can you make me a champion (冠军)?”

He just smiled, “No, Mary. But with hard work, you can make it.”

Mary took his words to heart, so she kept practicing day and night.

One day, she was invited to the Los Angeles Club. All the players were waiting in line for a group photo when a man came up.

“You can’t be in the photo!” he said, “You’re not wearing a skirt or dress!”

Mary was angry. She told herself, “I’ll show them one day! Everybody will know who I am, and they’ll all want to copy my style!”

And Mary did! She never gave up or let others tell her how she should behave. And she became one of the greatest and most famous sports stars ever!
